National Bread

Did you ever—
Go into—
A neighbors house—
And sit down—
To dinner—
And when the bread was passed—
You saw—
How good it looked—
How even and brown the crust—
How white and fine the grain—
How sweet and fresh it was—
And when you took a bite—
Oh Boy—
Mother never made—
Bread like that—
And they didn't wait—
For you to ask—
Who made it—
They told you—
"It is NATIONAL BREAD—
We get it at Laut's", it's so good—
You're missing something—
If you don't try it.

William Laut,

Chautauqua at Crossfield, June 7th, 8th, and 9th. Make a special note in your memorandum. Ask for your tickets and keep asking until you get them.

Mr. T. Amery arrived in town on Monday last after spending the Winter with his family at Walla Walla, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Furber left on Tuesday to take up residence on their "Homestead" near Pollockville, Alta. Mr. Furber made a quick trip over there last week and built a shack which they will occupy whilst erecting a more suitable house.

The Ladies of the Crossfield and District Agricultural Society will hold a Tea and Sale of Home cooking at the Cowling Building, on the afternoon of Saturday, April 9th.

Mrs. Waldox and family arrived in town on Friday evening last. Mr. Waldox has rented the McFadyen house on Oatler street.

A. W. Gordon has been sick for the last two weeks. We are pleased to see he is getting around again.

Keep in mind the Father and Son Banquet, to be held on Friday, April 8th.

Dr. W. B. Price, V.S., B.V.Sc., Veterinary Surgeon, will visit the Crossfield Livery Barn every Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bailey and children spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Reed, and returned to her home in Olds on Thursday last.

Miss Alpha Halliday has received an appointment at the local branch of the Imperial Bank in place of H. Davidson, who has been transferred to the Edmonton Branch. Miss Halliday commenced her new duties on Saturday last.

In the list of prize winners at the Calgary Cattle Show this week we notice that Frank Collicutt is again to the fore, having secured the first prize in the class for Bulls born after January 1st, 1920, with his Willow Spring Gay Lad 34th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jeffery left Crossfield last Saturday evening, there being a large number at the depot to see them off. It is their intention to stay in Brandon, Mrs. Jeffery's home town for a few weeks, after which they plan to go to Mr. Jeffery's home at Leamington, Ont. where he will probably settle in business.

CROSSFIELD CASH STORE

There are several good reasons why
It PAYS to PAY Cash.

When the Credit Merchant has $10,000 to $20,000 on his books; this money in actual Cash would bring him 6 per cent in any good Bonds.

Owing to having so much money out on his books in all probability he has to borrow from the Bank to replace his goods, which means 8 per cent more.

He has to make an allowance of 10 per cent to cover Bad Debts.

Who pays all this percentage, it has got to come from somewhere. The CASH Merchant has none of these obligations to contend with, and has no System of Book-keeping, which takes TIME and MONEY.

If you contemplate sending away for goods, give us a chance to tender on your order and leave your good money in your Home Town.

Watch this space for Specialties.

The Swing of the Pendulum

The enormous demand for products and goods of all kinds during the war, and the consequent rapid rise in prices not only for such products and goods but for all materials and labor entering into their production for use, created problems in finance and economics which taxed the best brains in all countries. Phenomenal increases in prices of all commodities inevitably forced increased wages paid to workers in order that they might be able to maintain themselves and their families. And increased wages could have no other effect than to give still another boost to the costs of production, and, as a natural result, another advance in prices. Another call for an increase in wages followed, and so the world travelled in a circle.

With the conclusion of the war came a sudden cessation in demand for those articles which were required in enormous quantities during the struggle. Coupled with this cessation in demand, was the return of millions of men from the armies back to civilian life and the necessity of absorbing them once again into the industrial and productive work of the country. Under the conditions it did not take long to make good the shortage of goods in practically all lines which had been created during the war while the energies of all people were devoted to the making of war materials and equipment.

Now the world of finance and business and labor faces the problems of decreased demand and falling prices. Difficult as were the problems created by unprecedented demand, shortage of materials and labor, and steadily rising prices, they were simple compared to the difficulties now confronting everybody because of decreased demand, and consequent unemployment, resulting in a lessened buying power by the public and an inevitable fall in prices of commodities. Yet this new and much more difficult problem must be faced and solved, and all classes must contribute their fair share to the solution.

The chief present difficulty seems to lie in the fact that the working-man remains insistent that the high scale of wages reached during the war period of inflation shall be maintained. The high wages were the outcome of unusual conditions, and any intelligent and observant person must realize that with the passing of those exceptional conditions, wages, like everything else, must return to a normal level.

In order to stimulate buying on the part of people generally, there must be a decrease in prices: If there is not such a drop in prices, and, as a consequence, increased buying, there must inevitably be a curtailment in production. A dropping off in industrial production means unemployment for the workers, not merely at prevailing high wages but at any wages at all. Any increase in the number of the unemployed means a further lowering of the buying power of the people, and a still further increase in unemployment, or a substantial reduction in the hours of employment—factors running half-time instead of full time. In other words, the world is in danger of again travelling in an economic circle, even more vicious and containing greater possibilities of disaster than the one travelled during the war years.

The unfortunate fact is that, to an appalling extent, people today are being guided in their actions by untold theories instead of by the actual experience of the past. Workers everywhere seem to be demanding the settlement of present problems in economics on a basis which totally disregards fundamental principles which underlie all business and finance. During the war the pendulum swung to the extreme limit one way, and everybody had to swing with it; it must swing to the other extreme before an equilibrium is reached, and once again everybody is affected. Not by the efforts on any one class alone, but only through the combined efforts and co-operation of all can a normal level be successfully reached.

One of the fallacies, which, however, finds ready acceptance in some quarters, is that any given industry can fix its own prices, hours of labor, scale of wages, etc., without having regard to other lines of industry. For example, that railway executives and railway employees can get together and decide upon hours of labor and scale of wages, and by setting these forth in an agreement ratified and signed by both parties, settle the problem so far as they are concerned. But not so. If as the result of the schedules agreed upon an undue burden is placed on other lines of commercial activity and the public as a whole, then there will be such a falling off in business that the railway companies will be sufferers and the necessity be enforced upon them of laying off countless numbers of their employees. It would be merely a modern application of the old fable of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

And what would be true in the case cited, would prove equally true in relation to any other industry. There are other aspects of this very complex problem, and it is important at this time that people should not dwell too much on theories, but face actualities, fundamental principles, and the concrete facts of the situation.

Northern Inland Fisheries.

The Northern Inland Fisheries have had a very successful season, and the Alberta Fish Company and the McIntosh Fish Company, together with the Saskatchewan fish companies, have shipped about two million pounds of fish. The greatest source of production was Buffalo Lake. More than 600,000 pounds of the catch was marketed throughout the west, and a large quantity shipped to Chicago for distribution.

Iron, according to Aristotle, was once extensively employed as currency.

Wireless for Northern Manitoba.

To put Northern Manitoba into direct communication with civilization, Dr. R. C. Wallace, commissioner for the north country, has recommended the immediate installation of twelve wireless stations, costing $55,000, in the north. Dr. Wallace stated that there is already built at the Pas one big station, and he asks that another be built at Flin Flou with ten smaller ones erected at intermediate points.

New York City has more than eleven thousand miles of paved streets and sidewalks.

Canadian Structural Materials in Demand

Value of This Production Increased

During the war, building activity was reduced to a minimum, and the total value of the production of cement, clay and quarry products which had reached a maximum of $30,899,752 in 1913 and fallen to $17,467,186 in 1916, increasing to $27,421,510 in 1919. In 1920 the value of this production had increased to a new maximum of $38,184,848. While higher prices have played an important part in this increase of over 39 per cent. in value the actual quantities of cement, brick, lime and stone produced has been considerably increased in 1920 over the 1919 production.

THAT DRY COUGH IS BRONCHITIS

If neglected, it will weaken the throat and perhaps reach the lungs. Nothing easier to help you quickly than the healing, soothing, vapor of Catarrhoxone. Catarrhoxone is a genuine, scientific preparation. Sold everywhere in three sizes, 25c, 50c and one dollar for a complete two months treatment. Prepared by the Catarrhoxone Co., Montreal.

Lumber From Peace-River. Arrangements are being made to ship 37,000,000 feet of timber from limits near Sawridge, on the Edmonton, Dunsmuir and British Columbia Railway, which penetrates the Peace River district, to the mills of the North-Western Lumber Company, Edmonton.

PAIN IN THE LOINS

Driven Out Quickly

That dragging, wearying sort of pain makes life a misery to many people. This pain is due to a passive inflammation of the adjacent tissue. Because every drop rubs in, because it penetrates so deeply, Nerviline gives a wonderful result. More powerful because five times stronger, more penetrating because it strikes through soft tissue, more healing to pain, Nerviline Liniment should be always on hand. Sold everywhere in large 35¢ bottles.

A Protest Long Delayed

Isn't it about time that the stationers manage to lay in some lead pencils which are worth buying? Ever since the war began we have been putting up with substitutes for burned matches and paying from five to eight cents each for the same. Now our patience is becoming exhausted, and we are looking for a pencil with thick, soft lead and one which can be sharpened without the lead breaking. We bought two pencils during the last 48 hours, and paid six cents for one and seven for the other, and neither of them was worth a darn. We haven't had a good pencil in three years.—York, Pa., Gazette.

Three elk were shipped from Vancouver, B.C., recently, consigned to the Zoological Gardens, London, England.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright, the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother must take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold, his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

German Crimes in Belgium

Some 7,473 Belgians Died as Result of Occupation.

According to official figures just made public, 7,473 Belgian civilians died as the result of the German occupation of their country. Of these 4,939 civilians were shot by German troops or executed by order of the German military authorities, 1,331 died in prison, in which they were confined by Germans, and 1,228 died in the course of the enforced deportations to Germany and the French front.

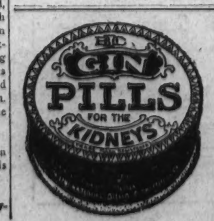

Asthma Overcome. The triumph over asthma has assuredly come, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved a positive blessing to the victim of asthmatic attacks. Letters received from many who have tried it form a testimonial which leaves no room for doubt that there is a real remedy. Get it to-day from your dealer.

Instruction for Soldiers' Wives.

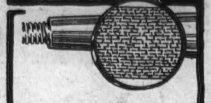

Five hundred and seventy-six wives of ex-Canadian soldiers, with their hundred babies and fifty other children, were brought together at Edmonton recently by the Home Branch of the Soldier Settlement Board for instruction in farm and household subjects. Arrangements were made for caring for the babies whilst the mothers attended lectures. It is expected that before the close of the winter 3,000 women will have attended these short courses, and more than 1,000 soldiers' wives have already benefited by the instructive classes.

Farewell

A representative gathering from the Official Board, Ladies' Aid, Sunday School and Choir of the Union Church, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. McCrory, on Thursday night last, to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery. A very pleasant time was spent in social conversation and music, after which the Rev. R. K. Swenson spoke appreciatively of the life and work of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery and their valuable services to Union Church. Mr. Waldo, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Sunday School followed with words of kindly regard and good wishes, after which Mrs. McCrory, the President of the Ladies' Aid, in a few well chosen words of regret at their departure, and kindly wishes for their future presented them with a beautiful Bible and a fine hymn book. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery expressed their thanks feelingly and said they had enjoyed their associations with Union Church. Someone started "For they are jolly good fellows," which was sung heartily. Refreshments were then served.

Are We Ready? Let Us Prepare

NOW For the Coming

Chautauqua.

Ever since the close of last summer's Chautauquas, we have been planning your program for this season. We have spared neither money nor effort to make your program for this year 1921 the biggest and best we have ever brought to Western Canada. The Managers have seen talent from all parts of the globe and have travelled many thousand miles to hear and see personally the lecturers and artists who appear on your program. We realize that we are human and all humans are apt to err. There are only two kinds of mistakes however, those of the mind, and those of the heart. Our hearts have been right. We have had but one aim in view, and that to bring to the people of Western Canada a program which will leave in its wake, enlightenment, inspiration and good cheer. The following are a few of the feature attractions with which we hope to accomplish our aim:

1. Dr. William E. Bohn - whose lecture on "The Restless Tide" was an outstanding feature of the big six day Chautauqua last year.

2. Odeon String Symphony, supported by the Anderson String Quartette. Please consider what this organization will mean to your program. Chautauqua provides nothing more attractive.

3. Do you like old fashioned music, readings and costumes? We are sending a quartette of versatile young lady artists who will specialize in that sort of a program for you. It's hard to beat some of the old songs and stories after all, isn't it?

4. Captain Stanley N. Daney, whom all Canadians know, will also be on the program. His subject will be "John Bull and Uncle Sam."

We have tried to please the people of your community by selecting the following dates for your Chautauqua:

JUNE 7 - 8 - 9.

From the Diary of A Hudson's Bay Clerk in the Seventies

CHASE OF A GRIZZLY BEAR—LOVE PHILTRES.

By O-G-E-M-A-S-E-S (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

To follow up this bear's history, it was a bona fide grizzly all right. It had wandered in from the plains and was killed in a dramatic way shortly afterwards by an Indian named Schol who was poaching in Swan Lake with his young wife, and had been chasing a loon, so had his old first lock gun loaded with ball. The day was very hot and the Indian's wife was thirsty. Close to them and a few yards in from shore was a beautiful spring of ice cold water which formed a deep pool. Taking the gun and a birch bark Rogan for the water, they made for the spring, and just as the Indian stooped down to fill the vessel he noted a reflection of a bear in the water, and looking up saw him standing on his hind legs just across the pool. The Indian fired and the bullet went right through his heart. Mr. Grizzly tumbled in the water, and he was a size that they had to come for help to the point to get him out. I traded the skin, which was covered with scars, and being out of season was only fit for coat coverings. It was the largest hide I had ever seen, and I secured his claws and sent them east to my father.

To return to Ba'tee, we boiled our kettle and had a good dinner on the site of the bear spisode. He would look at me curiously at times and mutter, "He must be a little mad." "No Ba'tee," but my father's people were Irish, and we let it go at that. Late in the evening we reached our canoe and an hour's paddle took us to Ba'tee's cabin, where his wife (a very superior woman) nicely rigged me out in some dry clothes.

Next morning I settled up with him and the wind being fair, sailed home. My sail was an oddity, a seamless sack split down the centre with a light yard top and bottom, quite big enough for my small and cranky craft in a wind.

On reaching the post I found a number of women and children all feasting in the kitchen. This was strictly against the rules of the company, so I turned them out and rounded on Murdo, saying, "It is this way you look after things in my absence?" His excuse was a queer one for these days. O-que-we-see, an Indian widow, by no means a fascinating person, had bewitched him, and whatever she told him to do, that he had to do. I wrote at his folly, told him to buck up and be a man and next time the lady called to try her games, kick her off the premises. He said he would try, in a doubtful sort of tone, but in a few days the same thing occurred, and I decided to send him to headquarters at Fort Ellis for his own good as well as the company's. So, exit Murdo.

Love Philtres.

I had a handsome moose skin jacket trimmed with otter fur, long fringes, and in fact the very latest thing in savagdom. That was getting sold, and I determined to have it washed and re-smoked, and thoroughly made over. Giving it to an old woman (named Mrs. Brass) who did my washing, which included moccasin making and mending, she took it carefully to pieces, and in doing so made a discovery. Sewed firmly in the facing of the coat was a small tin packet of a silver grey powder, and this she brought to me with a very shocked face, exclaiming, "Look, Ogemases, what I found in your coat," and shaking her head said, "Some bad girl tried to witch you and make you love her!" I laughed and said, "Well, she did not succeed, as I am quite fancy free at present and have no sweetheart." There was no sequel to this love philtre, nor did I ever discover who placed the powder in the coat.

Attempt to Poison.

There was a much more serious attempt made on a worthy man's life in the spring of this month. It was just about sugar time and the natives were tapping some ash-maple trees and occasionally bringing me in a little sugar or syrup. We had a large boat shed here, and it was customary to build at least two York boats yearly. On the last ice arrived Mr. Angus McLeod from Manitoba House, an experienced boat builder. He was a very fine fellow, married, with a nice little family, whom he had left at home. I did not wish to put Angus in the ordinary men's house, so had quarters fitted up for him in a small building just outside the gates of the post, where he was quite comfortable, and he at once got busy at the boats.

Some little time elapsed, and in one of my daily visits to the boat-house, I found Angus in low spirits, and on questioning him, found he was being bothered by an Indian woman of middle age who had entered his house on several occasions in the evening, and would evidently have liked him to pay her attention. He told her to go out, and this she did reluctantly, muttering to herself, and looking, Angus said, very wicked over, cheered him up and finally had him laughing over the incident. A day or two later we were walking down to the boat-house together when a little Indian girl approached, handed Angus a small piece of maple sugar and then ran off. Angus turned the sugar over and then handed it to me, saying, "It does not look very tempting." Just then a starved looking Indian dog passed us, and I whistled and chuckled him the sugar. Like train-dogs he never stopped to taste it, but swallowed it in a gulp and ran on towards the boat-house. Next morning Angus called at my office with a very grave face and asked me to accompany him. We walked towards the boat-house, and on the other side of it, just in the bush was our dog friend of yesterday, laying dead. Evidently the sugar must have contained a violent poison to have acted so quickly.

Angus was quite upset. He said he knew that sugar would have his life and wanted me to send him home at once, with the boat half finished. This, of course, was out of the question, and I finally decided to take him in my quarters and have him share my mess (though against rules), but it was most vital that the boats be ready for the trip to York at any cost.

On searching for the woman who had made overtures to him, she could not be found, having left hurriedly, and we all thought from a guilty conscience. It was a happy day for Angus McLeod when, having finished the boats, he left what he called the heathen hole.

Soviets Appeal to U.S.

Plea for Support of Militia

We Must Be Prepared for Emergencies, Says Gen. Burstell.

Calgary.—"A distinct duty reposes on those who are chief stockholders in this country to support the militia as it is their interests and their honor which is protected by the maintenance of such a force," declared Lieut. Gen. Henry Burstell, inspector-general of Canadian forces, at a luncheon given in his honor here.

"We should take warning from Russia," he said, "and have the militia prepared to deal with any trouble endangering the existence of the state if it became too astute for local police to handle."

Mr. Henry defined Bolshevism as the rule of two or three men, aided by men "who have no stake in the country." Even an attempt at Bolshevism would warrant the existence of the militia, he declared.

Alberta Prize Beef Steers

Province Will Demonstrate Types of Cattle in Great Britain.

Edmonton.—A practical demonstration in England of the type of beef cattle now being produced in Alberta, will be made next May or June, when the Department of Agriculture of the province will ship overseas fifty or sixty of the best beef steers that can be obtained, including the steers from the University that won honors at Chicago and Guelph, these to be fully advertised and officially shown at the Department of Agriculture of the province before they have to be slaughtered.

This announcement was made by Hon. Duncan Marshall in the Legislature when a sum was considered in the estimates for this purpose.

Big Camp at Fort Norman

Fort Norman Oil Fields Have Become Quickly Populated.

Fairbanks, Alaska.—Daniel Cadzow, factor of Rampart House, one of the northernmost posts of the Hudson's Bay Fur Company here, states that Mounted Police patrol returning from their annual mail trips into the Fort MacPherson and Mackenzie River districts, declared an immense camp is being formed in the Fort Norman oil fields, with hundreds already en route and other awaiting the opening of spring traffic.

The Fort Norman field, Cadzow said, is 300 miles long and 200 miles wide, along the Mackenzie River, the oil bearing area embracing 600,000 square miles. One well sunk by the Imperial Oil Company gushed 1,000 barrels an hour at 800 feet, according to Cadzow's information, and arrangements are being made to pipe the oil to the nearest navigable stream.

The Canadian Government has two airships for communication with the oil fields.

Conference Postponed.

Propose Formation of New Province Out of Yukon and Northern B.C.

Development of Resources is Drawing Large Population to the Northern Territory

Ottawa.—The formation of a new province of Canada consisting of all that portion of British Columbia which lies to the north of the 52nd parallel line north latitude and including the Yukon Territory, subject to the approval of a majority of the electors of all the territory mentioned as determined by a plebiscite, is being moved in the House of Commons by Col. C. W. Peck, V.C. (Skeena), and seconded by Dr. A. Thompson (Yukon).

Col. Peck's resolution reads:

(1) Whereas it has been the policy of Canada to establish new provinces as the country develops as was done by the creation of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta; and

(2) Whereas, the natural resources of Northern British Columbia and those of the Yukon are of a similar character; and

(3) Whereas, these resources are being developed and as a result the population of this territory is rapidly increasing; and

(4) Whereas, it is fully expected that the census to be taken this year will show sufficient population to warrant the creation of another province; and

(5) Whereas the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway created a natural political division;

(6) Resolved, that a new province be formed consisting of all that portion of British Columbia which lies to the north of the 52nd parallel of north latitude and including the Yukon Territory, subject to the approval of a majority of the electors of all the territory mentioned as determined by a plebiscite.

Anarchy Rampant in Germany

Cities Are Reported to be in Throes of Revolution.

Berlin.—The mid-German industrial areas are again in the throes of anarchy in consequence of the Communists' determination to force a widespread general strike in protest against the Government's action in massing security police for the purpose of checking the rioting and plundering which have been going on for the past few days. The lightning dispatches from Munich are the chief centre of the present disturbances, which not only extend to derailing trains by removing the track, but are spreading to serious bomb outrages upon the judiciary buildings in nearby cities and towns, including Leipzig, Dresden, Fribourg and Rodewische.

Armed bandits operating under the direction of the notorious "Robin-hood" Hoelz, who a year ago terrorized Vogtland, are carrying out hold-ups, robbing savings banks and otherwise spreading terror through the community by the destruction of industrial plants and the seizure of arms.

Dominion's Future Status

Hon. L. A. David Believes Canada Eventually Will Have Complete Independence.

Montreal.—Hon. L. A. David, provincial secretary, speaking before the Women's Canadian Club, as a representative of the French-Canadians in Canada, declared his belief that Canada would eventually possess complete autonomy as a nation. He predicted that they would be dominated by a purely "Canadian mentality," compounded of the mental attitudes of the inhabitants of all her provinces, but quite free from imperialistic leanings or racial prejudices.

"I am not at present a separatist," said Mr. David, "but I believe that our country has at the present time the right to look forward toward the most perfect measure of autonomy it deserves possible."

Demand of Teachers

Calgary Pedagogues Will Put Limit On Their Compromise.

Calgary.—Local Teachers' Alliance have practically decided that a fifty-fifty compromise on their salary demands would be as far as they would go in meeting the school board.

The teachers' original demands made increases totalling $177,000. The normal increases under the old schedule would have been $18,000. The board was willing to make increases to bring this to $40,000. The fifty-fifty compromise will be $88,000.

Premier Lloyd George Attacks Socialism

Says It Presents a Greater Menace to the Country Than War.

LONDON.—A bitter attack on Socialism was made by the Prime Minister in a speech at a luncheon of "The new members of the Coalition Group," as the participants in the luncheon party were styled. "The military dangers which united the parties have disappeared," said Mr. Lloyd George, "but greater, more insidious, more permanent dangers still confront us. The great peril is the rise to power of a new party with new purposes of the most subversive character."

"It calls itself 'Labour.' It is really Socialist. It is tearing the parties to pieces on its way to tearing society to pieces. Those who are inclined to agree with Mr. Asquith and Lord Bute, that the Labor Party is a 'bogey' should read the Labor press."

"Socialism is fighting to destroy everything that the great prophets and leaders of both parties—Unionist and Liberal—have labored for generations to uphold. Parliamentary institutions are as much menaced as private interests and the rule of class organization is to be substituted for them."

B.C. Beer Problem

Near Beer Is Dealt a Death Blow in the Legislature.

VICTORIA.—By a vote of 31 to 23, the Legislature put the question to the now famous beer clause, when, in addition to refusing to accept the Mackenzie amendment designed to raise the limit for non-intoxicating liquors from one per cent. alcohol by weight to two per cent, it dealt near beer its death blow by adopting an amendment presented by M. B. Jackson, to the effect that no one, other than a Government vendor shall sell or deal in any liquor known or described as beer, near beer, or by any name whatever commonly used to describe malt or brewed liquor.

As a result of a two-hour discussion on the moderation bill, the measure was got through with and the committee rose reporting the bill complete with amendments.

That does not mean that the beer problem has been eliminated. The next move on the part of those who seek to have beer sold in clubs, hotels, etc., will be an amendment presented when the bill comes up for approval on report. Then it is stated a move will be made to insert a clause permitting beer of a standard strength to be sold 1 to 3 per cent. by weight of about 8 per cent. proof spirits.

Greek Offensive Abandoned

PARIS.—The new Greek offensive against the Turks in Asia Minor, which was planned for the end of March has been abandoned, at least for the present, according to despatches received by the French foreign office.

Premier Of France Believes That Germany Will Discover Resources

Premier Briand, replying to Interpellations in the French Chamber of Deputies regarding the London reparations conference, said that if the allies remain firm and united, the Germans will discover that they (the Germans) have astonishing resources. Germany had been vanquished, he declared, but, unfortunately psychologically this was insufficiently apparent to the German people.

M. Briand told the Chamber he went to the London conference bound to maintain the reparations figures arrived at in Paris, but ready to make concessions regarding the methods of payment.

"I frankly told our allies there was a wall against which we were backed," he declared. "The military penalties, the Premier said, had to be effective although inexpensive. Regarding security, he asserts: 'I might say the allied guns are trained on Easen and we control the movement of the greatest part of the Ruhr coal.'"

Premier Briand continued: "Today it is a begging Germany, disputing foot by foot, and trying to arouse the neutral countries by bought newspapers. But the day we let ourselves be persuaded and seem to abandon our efforts, then they say we will see another Germany, one all ready to attempt in the economic domain the imperialist conquests she failed to achieve in the military domain."

Speaking of Germany's ability to pay, M. Briand declared: "Germany had no foreign debt. Her taxes are lighter than ours and her economic situation is better. The German budget has been erected with apparent dissimulation. Germany said at Spa that she could not deliver 800,000 tons of coal, but managed with a penalty, she delivered nearly 2,000,000."

"London Germany declared she could not exceed the payment of a billion marks yearly. In five days, menaced by an ultimatum, the Germans discovered resources and agreed to pay during five years, the most difficult time, the figures of the Paris agreement. We have a right to be suspicious and say there are resources in Germany."

"Germany's position is that of a debtor and not of a merchant who pays out his profits. She owes her debt out of her entire assets. We have a right to let her great feudal lords of industry, finance and agriculture 'it is all your assets that you are liable for payment of your debt. You have mines, forests and railroads. You have factories so prosperous that their scandalous profits no longer are published. You should mobilize them for the payment of your debt.'"

"Our soldiers are at Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort with cannon trained on Essen to show them something," the Premier exclaimed. His words were almost drowned in the applause.

He gave the British Prime Minister credit for being the first to reject the German proposals, and paid him tribute as "the sincere friend of France."

Regarding the duration of the occupation of the new territories, M. Briand declared the soldiers would remain where they were until the questions of reparations, disarmament and the trial of the accused German officers were definitely settled.

Starch And Its Uses.
Apart from its laundry uses and substitute for paste, powdered starch is a good silver polisher, and it is far superior to breadcrumbs, dough and such like for cleaning soiled wallpaper. Powdered finely and gently rubbed over the walls with a clean, soft duster or an old muslin cloth, it will remove even the most annoying stains caused by the grease in bricks. A lump of starch dissolved in water for cleaning windows is more effective than whitening. Boiled starch may be washed over newly-cleaned linoleum and allowed to dry. This will form a skin, and if the linoleum is to be polished, a very small quantity of polish need be used.

Body of Unknown Soldier Cannot be Identified

Remains Were Chosen From Hundreds of Thousands of the Killed.

There is not the slightest possibility that the remains of the Empire's unknown soldier, now resting in Westminster Abbey, will ever be identified. Captain the Rev. M. Mullineux, M.C., made this very clear when he explained to newspapermen recently how the soldier was chosen from the hundreds of thousands of unknowns who gave life for the cause.

Wise precautions were taken in this direction and the consequence is that any mother or wife whose son or husband was numbered among the unknown dead on the battlefields of any of the fighting front lines, who hope that the ashes of her hero rest beside those of England's honored dead to be a subject of reverence and respect for generations yet unborn.

Captain Mullineux is a member of the directorate of the Graves Registration and Enquiries Board, whose function is to check the graves of soldiers. It was created by the war department of the Imperial Government, and has already done much valuable work. Captain Mullineux is also the agent of the Canadian and New Zealand Red Cross Society entrusted with the duty of assisting relatives of deceased soldiers to locate the bodies of their dead.

The selection of the unknown soldier whose body now rests in Westminster was made from a number of bodies of unknowns, "one taken from each fighting front. These were assembled at a central spot in France and confined, the coffins being identical in appearance. From the eight or nine bodies so chosen three were selected. Another selection committee then picked one from the three, and this was taken to Paris and finally formed the central figure of London's mournful but impressive pageant. Captain Mullineux was present at the ceremony of interment in the Abbey and describes it as unforgettable.

Shipping and Shipbuilding In British Columbia

Vancouver is Now Linked With the Orient by Ten Lines of Steamships.

During the last year there has been a satisfactory increase of the shipping of the port of Vancouver. Several new lines of transportation have now been established, and Vancouver is now linked with the Orient by ten lines of steamships, with Europe (via the Panama) by nine lines, with Australia by two, with British India and the East Indies by two. The total number of vessels visiting this port during 1920 was 11,489 coastwise with a gross tonnage of 7,397,000, 336 deep sea vessels with a gross tonnage of 1,884,000, making a grand total of 11,823 vessels, with 9,231,000 tons. More than 300,000 passengers landed, and 293,624 embarked from Vancouver.

The shipbuilding industry has not been in the same healthy condition, however, as it was during the 1917-1919 period. This is partly as a result of the termination of the war, which brought back to the regular channels of trade much tonnage which was previously employed by government. "I am confident, however," declares the president of the board of trade, "that if British Columbia is successful in her efforts to secure a steel plant she will be very favorably placed as regards the building of steel vessels."

Enormous difficulties have had to be overcome by the local shipbuilding plants as it is necessary to bring steel many thousands of miles to enable them to construct their vessels. With a steel plant operating somewhere on the Pacific coast this difficulty would be overcome.

The thumb is stronger than all the fingers put together.

"Oral Hygiene" Lay Education Series

"YOUR TEETH"

First Stage of the Decay of the Teeth.

By Rex Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor Oral Hygiene.

If your knife and fork, spoon, plate, cup and saucer were left from one meal to another without thorough washing, you would change your boarding house.

But why be so particular about outside matters unless you thoroughly cleanse your own mouth after each meal?

When food is allowed to pack between and around the teeth, caries, or decay as it is commonly called, gets a good start. The packed food decomposes and ferments, this makes the bacteria happy so they all move in.

As the bacteria get settled upon the enamel surface of the teeth, they cover themselves with a coating called a gelatinous plaque. Under this protective covering the bacteria grow unless they are removed by thorough cleansing.

Decay of the teeth, caries, is a disease just the same as tuberculosis or measles is a disease. In this disease the hardest tissue in the body is attacked.

The bacteria of decay are really tiny plants. They live and die as other plants do and when they die, they decompose and ferment, forming an acid. This acid, in its fresh state, will dissolve the enamel of the tooth a very little at a time at first, but the further in the bacteria they get, the more rapidly they work.

The enamel of the teeth is not sensitive. It is composed entirely of the salts of lime, shaped into microscopic rods that are bound together by a natural cement. The rods all point toward the centre, like the bricks in an arch. Enamel is the armor plate of a tooth; when the decay gets through the armor it reaches the ends of the tiny fibres from the nerve that radiates through the body of the tooth.

It is here that you get that first sharp pain that tells there is trouble ahead, trouble that only one person can stop. Don't delay. Your teeth are too valuable.

Is It a Coincidence?

Some Bold Socialistic Experiments in North Dakota.

The nearest approach to Russian Socialism on this continent is in North Dakota, where there have been in recent years some bold socialistic experiments — co-operative stores and marketing, a state banking system for the benefit of farmers, state insurance of various kinds, state flour mills, etc. And now, financial and business conditions in North Dakota more closely resemble those in Soviet Russia than do those anywhere else on this continent. Is it only a coincidence? — Hamilton Herald.

How Instruction Cars Are Of Very Practical Value To The Farmers

Sub-Surface Rights

Edmonton Member Endeavors to Secure Measure of Protection for Homesteaders.

Brig.-General Griesbach, M.P., of West Edmonton, would have one-eleventh of the value of oil which may be produced on homestead lands paid to the owner who shall have made a homestead entry. He has moved a resolution to this effect in the commons.

General Griesbach drew the attention of the house to the difference between the system of land tenure prevailing in the prairie provinces from that which obtains in other parts of Canada. The old common law title exists in the remaining provinces. The owner owns from the centre of the earth to the sky. In the three prairie provinces, since 1887, title has been granted to the surface rights only. The ownership in all minerals which may underlie the surface is reserved to the Crown. The Crown may, upon application, issue an oil lease, but he does not own in respect to lands which are owned by hundreds of thousands of homesteaders throughout the prairie provinces. The member for West Edmonton mentioned that the owner of the surface rights may apply for an oil lease, but he does not own in respect to lands which are owned by hundreds of thousands of homesteaders throughout the prairie provinces. What evidence is to be expected. What evidence is there, however, that the lessons delivered to them at no inconsiderable expense have gone home?

Two incidents have come to notice recently says the Regina Leader, will answer this query. At Verwood, the other day, a farmer listened to a lecture on the value of the silo in the dairy industry. As soon as the lecture was over he called the lecturer aside and asked him for further details. The result was that the two men walked over to a local lumber yard, wrote out the specifications for a silo large enough to contain fodder for twelve cows, and the farmer bought the lumber and constructed the silo.

This particular farmer acted promptly on the information conveyed to him by a lecturer on one of the cars, and is now well on his way to the possession of one of the most important pieces of equipment for an up-to-date dairy establishment in this latitude. It is not unreasonable to assume that many of his neighbors will sooner or later imitate the same wholesome lesson and follow it.

At another point the same lecturer showed to an audience of children the Department of Agriculture's film illustrating the value of milk in the human diet. The following day a farmer came to the car and asked to see the film. He explained that he had been trying for a long time to get his boys to drink milk without success. The boy had come home from seeing the film and asked for a glass of milk and ended by drinking two glasses. Such a film, thought the farmer, was worth going a long way to see.

These incidents serve to illustrate the practical value to the farmers of the province of the operations of these instruction cars. The life of the farmer is a busy one; time to read books is not always to be found. The content of many books is brought home directly to him through the lectures, films and demonstrations which the Government is transporting to his door. Whatever the cost of operating these cars may be, a few more silos and a generation of boys all drinking milk will well repay the province for its outlay on them.

Viscount Grey's Word

War Has Diminished Prestige of Christian Civilization in Non-Christian World.

A better world is desirable and possible, but change of external circumstances will not alone produce a better world.

The national policies of Christian countries have been, and still are, lamentably deficient in the Christian spirit.

The war has immensely diminished the prestige of Christian civilization in the non-Christian world. You must restore the prestige by showing that great as the calamity of this war is, you are going to have something better, more stable, more moral, more Christian in spirit. — Glasgow Student Conference, Jan. 1921.

San Diego fishermen recently landed in their nets a female of the species called the "basking shark," of which only six are known to have been taken in the whole history of the world's fishing industry.

W. M. U. 1921

Since the 17th of January, two agricultural instruction cars have been operating along the Canadian Pacific Railway in the southern part of Saskatchewan. The cars were supplied and hauled free by the Canadian Pacific Railway. They were equipped with demonstration apparatus and speakers by the Department of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture. One of the cars has been devoted to the promotion of interest in the dairy industry and the other to the demonstration of better methods of field crop production. They have both served as a valuable medium for the diffusion of the information collected by the Better Farming Commission appointed by the Saskatchewan Government last summer.

Thousands of farmers and their wives and children have visited the cars since they started out on their round of daily meetings at towns in Southern Saskatchewan. They have listened to the lectures delivered by the experts who manned the cars, viewed the educational films that have been run off, and watched the demonstrations that have been performed for their benefit.

This was to be expected. What evidence is there, however, that the lessons delivered to them at no inconsiderable expense have gone home?

Crossfieldite's Splendid Achievement

Mr. Ian W. Laut has the distinction of feeding and finishing nine of the best steers ever received on the Calgary yards. These were some that he had raised on the farm east of town, and he is to be complimented on his splendid achievement. The steers were put on feed November 10th last. For roughage they got all the good upland hay they could eat with two green oat bundles each per day. On the start each steer was given about a quart and a half of grain twice per day, and this was increased to about double that amount at the finish. Crushed oats were used throughout, although for a short time in January about half crushed barley was added to the ration. This, however proved to be too heating and Mr. Laut returned to the straight oats.

Eight of the steers were Short-horn grades, and showed quality and breeding. One, however, was a Short-horn-Holstein animal, but all were finished well and in prime shape. All nine topped the market at $9.25 per hundred. Two of the steers weighed 3060 lbs., or an average of 1530 lbs. each, while the other seven weighed 10,180 lbs., or an average of 1450 lbs.

Many very favorable comments were heard about the yards and the unassuming young man of Crossfield was heartily congratulated on his ability to feed and finish such steers. The United Grass Growers, Ltd., handled the shipment, and P. Burns and Co. were the buyers.

Marriage

LILLEY—LANDYMORE

A very happy wedding took place on Wednesday of last week at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. Claude Deeks, when Miss Evelyn Landymore was united in marriage to Mr. Bert Lilley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. K. Stevenson. The groom, accompanied by his brother Charlie, entered upon the playing of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, well reproduced by that modern instrument the phonograph. The bride followed her bridesmaid Miss Alpha Halliday. The impressive ceremony completed, the company of relatives and friends together with those mentioned were seated at the wedding feast. Hand painted cards, painted by the bride and Mr. John Morrison were placed at each plate, and served as a choice souvenir of the occasion. The young couple were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents from their numerous friends. They are now living in their farm which was formerly owned by Mr. Robert Colling—five miles south-east of town. One wish accompanies these promising young people, with the hope that much happiness and success may attend them.
